This is such a beautifully crafty way to use your Washi Tape and it's so easy to do. There is no strict rule about the length or shape of your feathers so mine are only for example. In this instance I've created a feather of approximately 9cms long.

To do so, lay 2 strips of washi tape, sticky side down, onto a surface where it will easily lift again. Your silicone mat is best but I appear to have mislaid mine. The tape edges should overlap slightly. Turn the tape sticky side up and lay a length of thick Whisper White Bakers Twine down along the overlap/centre then lay 2 more strips of washi tape (sticky side down) over the top, again to overlap. Cut this into a rough feather shape then carefully cut the feathers in towards the centre. Make sure to cut the feather in the right direction. You would be amazed how many people I've had cut it the wrong way! :) Use a Sahara Sand Stampin' Write Marker (brush end) to 'dirty' the twine then apply a little Crystal Effects to the twine with your fingers to stick the twine fibres together to stop it from unravelling.

And here is your finished feather. Try out on different of your washi tapes and your will be surprised at the ones that make the most beautiful feathers. Enjoy. Send me pictures of your projects and I will put them on my blog. :)
